Projects

Final Year Project – Fake News Detection

- Developed and evaluated multiple machine learning models for fake news detection using a labeled dataset, achieving highest accuracy with XGBoost (99.73%), followed by Decision Tree (99.55%) and Gradient Boosting (99.53%).
- Implemented and compared advanced classification algorithms including Support Vector Machine (99.26%) and Random Forest (98.78%) for robust model benchmarking.
- Conducted thorough performance analysis to identify optimal model for real-world deployment, emphasizing precision and generalization across algorithms.

Portfolio Website

- Built a responsive portfolio using HTML5, CSS3, and JavaScript with mobile-first design and interactive UI features like smooth scrolling and animated navigation.
- Integrated dynamic project galleries, live demo links, and social media profiles to showcase frontend development skills.

Skills

- Programming Languages 📖 C,C++, Java(OOP),Python
- Web Dev 📖 HTML, CSS, Git, Github
- Coursework Subjects 📖 Operating System, Database Management System, Object Oriented Programming, Computer Network
